AXED @ The Bunker is Hiring:

Winter Crew (Holidays + Ski Season)

Want a winter job that doesn't feel like a winter job? We're looking for fun, confident people to join the crew at AXED @ The Bunker in Blue Mountain Village for the holidays and the 2026/27 ski season.

We're an axe throwing and F1 racing simulator venue with a full bar, right in the heart of the village. AXED has been around since 2018, we have a 4.9 star rating across 900+ Google reviews, and we're proud of the experience our team creates. Our guests are families, friends, birthday crews, ski club groups and corporate teams, and every one of them should leave buzzing.

What you'll be doing

- Coaching guests through safety and technique, one-on-one, and getting first-timers to stick their first axe
- Running team games and friendly competitions for groups
- Getting guests set up and racing on our full-motion F1 racing simulators
- Welcoming walk-ins, handling waivers and check-ins, and keeping the front desk moving
- Serving drinks behind the bar (Smart Serve required for bar shifts)
- Getting out into the village to chat with people and bring them through our doors
- Keeping the space clean, safe, and ready for the next group

Who we're looking for

- You're outgoing and love being around people. You can command a room of 20 strangers and make them feel like friends.
- You stay calm and stay safe when things get busy
- You're reliable and you show up when you say you will
- You're available afternoons, evenings, and weekends, including over the holidays

- Smart Serve certified, or willing to get it before your first bar shift
- No axe throwing experience needed. We'll train you, and yes, you'll get very good at it.

The details

Season: mid-December through end of March, with training starting in early December

Hours: part-time and full-time shifts available. We're open 7 days a week in winter, afternoons into the evening.

Pay: $19/hour plus gratuities

Location: 172 Jozo Weider Blvd, Blue Mountain Village (below Chuck Burger)

Perks: free axe throwing and F1 racing for you and your friends, a staff discount at the bar, and a winter spent in the middle of the village

How to apply

Send a short note about yourself and your resume to hello@axedthrowing.com with "Winter Crew" in the subject line. Tell us your availability over the holidays and the best day you've ever had at work. We're reviewing applications now and hiring quickly.
